County Health Dept. Concerned about Flu Outbreak

"Although there is no sign of a flu epidemic, county officials are concerned with any widespread malady," said Dr. John Byer, assistant county health officer yesterday.

Widespread reports of flu, described as a crippling sickness lasting one or two days and running rampant through the central county area, have reached county health officials in Martinez.

CENTRAL COUNTY school districts reported that absenteeism is a little above normal, but since flu it not a "reportable sickness," there are no record of the number of children out of school because of flu.

Dr. Byer commented that although there are "seldom any serious complications" caused by this particular strain of flu, it is possible that pneumonia or some other respiratory disease could set in.

"Flu, however, is serious with the very young or the aged and for persons suffering from some other medical defect such as heart trouble," the health officer warned.

IN THE ORINDA Union School District, one school nurse complained the children would become ill with little if any warning. Violent vomiting followed by dysentery are the chief discomforts described by a Lafayette doctor.

"As far as we know, we have not had a serious case of flu brought to our attention as yet, said an official of the Concord Community Hospital.

"It generally takes two to three weeks for the flu to really get going and we have been seeing more and more cases of it in our office during the past several days," noted a Pleasant Hill pediatrician.

THE SICKNESS WAS described by a Walnut Creek general practitioner as a form of the "one day flu."

"You may feel as though you don't want to live, but you'll get over it with plenty of rest and some medical attention," he explained.

Dr. Byer recommended residents suffering from symptoms caused by flu to contact a doctor "as soon as possible."

"There are a number of serious illnesses which may have the same general symptoms as this flu strain. It would be best for anyone coming down with a flu to seek a professional diagnosis," Byer urged.

A Walnut Creek health consultant proposed the best preventative for the flu, especially when it is so prevalent, is rent, normal exercise and a healthy diet.

"Direct contact with persons with the flu should be avoided especially in the early stages," she warned.

Two doctors, one in Pleasant Hill and one in Walnut Creek, agreed in separate conversations with The Sun, the flu, now circulating, as far as they were concerned, was not related to the Asian strain reported early last year.

The health department officer commented there would be further information and/or recommendations concerning the flu from his office in the near future.

UGH !!! I feel awful, this resident seems to be saying as he suffers along with many others from the flu. Rest, doctor's care and common sense seem to be the answers to the flu, according to health authorities.

Doorbell Ringers to Warn About Cancer, Monday Eve

Doorbells throughout the community will ring next Monday night when volunteers of the Contra Costa Cancer Society will conduct their "C-Day" house-to-house Cancer Crusade.

Their slogan will be "Guard Your Family—Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check."

Their purpose will be to raise money for cancer research and to alert householders to the need for regular health checkups as an aid to early detection of the disease.

"EVERY YEAR for the past three years some of our own volunteers in each community who have read the educational material they deliver to their neighborhoods, have gone to the doctor, discovered they had cancer, and after prompt treatment are alive and well today.

"One of they may call on you Monday," Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, president of the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society, said today.

"We consider leaving this life-saving information in each of the more than 400,000 homes in Contra Costa just as important as gathering contributions to find the final answer to cancer through research," Dr. Pellegrin declared.

The county cancer leader said that although California ranks 24th among the states of the nation in giving to this vital cause, with a per capita contribution of 18 cents, Contra Costa lags behind with a per capita gift of 14.5 cents.

"IF CONTRA Costa residents could raise their individual contribution just to the price of one package of cigarettes, we could do our part in aiding the national cancer society face a deficit of nearly six million dollars in its push to find a cure for cancer," Dr. Pellegrin pointed out.

The medic said Contra Costa's quota this year to finance research, public education and day-to-day service to cancer patients is $55,715.

"Remember that at the time when cancer is 'silent', before it talks through signals, it is most curable," Dr. Pellegrin warned. "A regular checkup is your best insurance against cancer."

Coffee parties are being planned by captains for their volunteers to see the society's attack upon cancer and some of the latest findings in research to be shown on the program.

GUY SPENCER, County Cancer Crusade chairman, announced that Mrs. Carroll Wedell of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce will head the business campaign in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Charles Hart, residential chairman of Walnut Creek, announced captains who will assist her next Monday.

They are Mesdames T. A. Alverson, J. H. Woodhead, G. H. Cockerton, S. F. Smart, S. Sussman and W. K. Founce.

Dr. Donald Bittner, education chairman for the Cancer Society, today urged all persons to view consecutive slides showing how cancer grows in the body.

The slides are on view at Pillsbury's Stationery, 1613 North Main Street in Walnut Creek.

IN LAFAYETTE Cancer Crusade chairman Mrs. Leroy Sowers and in Orinda, chairman J. Gordon Ainsworth announced that in answer to requests, some neighborhoods will be visited by their cancer crusaders this weekend.

Police Improvements to Cost Money -- Nejedly

Improvements are needed in Contra Costa law enforcement agencies, but county residents must pay for them, said district attorney John Nejedyl Wednesday night at Lafayette Town Hall.

The recommendations came at an open meeting of the Lafayette Improvement Association, where Nejedly was presenting the law enforcement picture to students of Acalanes High School and area residents.

"I suggest that you seriously consider these problems, but know that you have to pay for improvements," said Nejedly.

"WE NOW are saving money only to the extent of our operations," he added.

Among improvements suggested by Nejedly was the creation of a central county morgue.

"We have a serious problem in dealing with investigation of homicides—or any situation in which there is a human death," he said.

Nejedly brought out that the public official involved in such cases is a deputy coroner—whose only qualification for the job often is the fact that he is a mortician.

"THIS IS extremely unfair, both to the mortician and to the people," Nejedly said.

The deputy coroner—or mortician—finds himself concerned not only with investigating circumstances of death, but with comforting the bereaved and arranging a funeral.

"Such a situation makes it possible literally to get away with murder,' Nejedly said.

A criminal investigation laboratory also was recommended.

"CURRENTLY we take our work to Oakland, Berkeley or Sacramento," Nejedly said. "This takes time. There is too much delay. Then, too, there is the expense at trial of bringing in witnesses in from the outside laboratory."

We should not only be concerned with convicting the criminal but also with proving innocence, Nejedly pointed out, adding that often people had to be kept in custody indefinitely, not recognizing their rights properly.

The district attorney cited the Burroughs killing in Orinda.

IN ORDER TO prove the story of the suspect involved, the suspect thad to be kept in custody pending reports from Sacramento in the Burroughs case.

The suspect's story checked out. He was innocent, but still had to be held, Nejedly illustrated.

At that time, the district attorney said, the county had no polygraph. Two men in Walnut Creek could have given the test, but no one was available to all county agencies.

"NOW WE have two operations in this capacity," Nejedly said. "We have examined 28 persons in two months. Even if you look only toward the number we released, it was worth the added expense."

The district attorney's office also nabbed three persons operating criminally in Contra Costa County. A polygraph also was used to establish innocence of two people who otherwise might have had a shadow cast upon them.

There also exists a definite coordination problem between the various county agencies, Nejedly said.

Information should be brought to various operations under rules now being established by the courts, he said. With reference to the rights of the individual, this is something that has been needed a long time.

DIFFERENT localities once handled matters in different manners.

"Now we are coordinating—sitting down, working out standard procedures," said the district attorney.

Contra Costa County now has, for instance, a standard 502, or drunk driving, procedure.

Recommended also was addition of another deputy to work out of the Richmond area in the welfare department.

The meeting also was informed of a bill now on the governor's desk to prohibit district attorneys from engaging in private practice.

THIS WAS a campaign issue in Nejedly's election.

"More police work—and better —costs more money," he said.

Land Building Sold to Young

Sale of the two-story Land building at 41 Moraga Way, to Dallas Young has been disclosed.

The 10-year old business structure formerly owned by George W. Ely of Lafayette, was bought by Young at a reported price of $92,500.

Young, an Orinda resident, formerly was a partner in the construction firm of MacDonald, Young and Nelson. He will establish his own office locally and change the building's name to the Young Building.

The transportation was handled by Mrs. Muriel Lloyd of Marian Pittman's real estate office.

A veteran of 45 years in the contracting business, Young had been with MacDonald, Young and Nelson for 13 years.

Before that, he was for 25 years with the construction firm of MacDonald and Kahn. Young, who is regarded by many as one of the deans of West Coast construction men, is a past president of the Northern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors, and is currently a national AGC director.

His retirement from contracting will be gradual. Although he has sold his interest in MacDonald, Young & Nelson, he is continuing with the company as a vice president.

In this capacity, he is supervising the new Candlestick Point stadium, for which the firm is acting as manager of construction for Charles L. Harney Inc.

Said Young: "My idea of the finest possible way to celebrate my retirement is to see the San Francisco Giants play the first ball game in their new stadium!"

AS ONE of the founders of the firm, he has been responsible for the construction and completion of many multi-million dollar projects. These include freeways on both the east and west approaches of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, the new Pacific Mutual Life office building of the Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. and the complete apartment and commercial center at Stonestown.

Association Members go Out Ringing Doorbells

More people "than ever before" are joining the Orinda Association, according to an announcement yesterday by Dave Young, chairman of the membership drive.

"They are sending their dollars to our group with a willingness that has never been equalled," Young said.

"We have been trying to sell Orindans the idea that our group is the only one which is truly representative of all the people," Young added.

Members of the Association have been going house-to-house, ringing doorbells.

The total enrollment in the group is not yet known, Young said.

"But," he added, "we expect to get up into the thousands . . ."

Dues are $2 for a "Mr. and Mrs." membership; $1 for an individual.

There was a general member-auditoroum last Monday.

ship meeting at Orinda school County Assessor C. L. Dunlee and Tom Heaton of the planning commission spoke.

They were introduced by Mel Nielsen, county supervisor.

Parent Education Meeting to be Held at School

There will be a Parent Education meeting on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Pine Grove School.

In response to the request of Orinda parents for child guidance programs Dr. Kent Zimmerman will present "Growth Problems of Parents Who Have a School Age Child."

Dr. Zimmerman is in charge of the child guidance service at Children's Hospital of the East Bay in Oakland.

Among his achievements are having a psychiatrist in the United States Public Health Service, director of mental health unit for the United States Childrens Bureau, and a member of expert panel on Mental Health for the World Health Organization.

Some of his current activities are lecturing in pediatrics at the University of California Medical School and consultant for Mental Health for State Department of Public Health.

There will be a question and answer time following the lecture

Beautification Group to Sponsor Dramateur's Show

The Orinda Beautification Committee met last Thursday night at the Moraga Valley Nursery to discuss current and future projects.

The committee will sponsor the next play of the Dramateurs, "The Rivals," a comedy of the Restoration period. Plans are being made to take over Lafayette Town Hall for Friday night, May 15.

By buying a ticket people in Orinda will be contributing to the future beautification program.

MONE RAISED from the play will go toward purchase of pink flowering chestnut trees.

Six wil lbe planted on Bryant Way, a strip of land immediately bordering Mt. Diablo Highway, in the Crossroads business area.

Three trees are planned for the approach to Orinda Park Manor.

The committee hopes to stimulate a tree-planting program, with the residents, for this hilly street which stands out so conspicuously as one approaches Orinda from the tunnel.

"So many residents of Orinda Park Manor have beautiful gardens," observed Mrs. Pollaczek. "Maybe some of this could be carried over to make the street in keeping."

Mott was asked how he felt about the problem of maintaining the freeway seedlings. Some efforts have been made to water the seedlings.

"WATERING IS not going to help now," he replied, "unless it's on a regular basis. The best thing to do for those seedlings is cultivate and mulch with sawdust."

Tom Sibary reported that he is asking all scout leaders whose groups planted the freeway to maintain their own seedlings.

"It is just too bad that we have not had our normal rainfall. In past years we could always depend on an inch of rain in April," he said.

Mrs. Fred Rust reported that most of the tub owners are taking care of their own tubs.

"The nasturtiums planted by the Girl Scouts are coming up and will bloom soon," she stated.

NO FINANCIAL report on the olive trees is yet available, according to Stanley Allen, co-chairmen of the committee.

"Five remain to be planted, three across the highway in the state landscaping."

"The project may be continued in the fall with the planting of trees to screen the new village parking lot, depending on the wishes of the community, 'and,' added Allen, "the energy of the committee!

Those present included William Penn Mott, Stan Allen, John Miller of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Tom Sibary of the Orinda Planning Committee, Bob Wasemirth of the Orinda Lions Club, Mrs. C. V. Scarich of the Orinda Women's Club, Mrs. Robert Patmont of the Orinda Valley Garden Club, Mrs. Basil Winslow of the Calif. Conservation Council, and Mrs. Paul Pollaczek of the Orinda Garden Club.

"RAGGEDY ANN AND ANDY" will be present in cutout form at the Orinda Nursery School dinner dance Saturday, April 25 at the Claremont. Here, showing a preview of the decorations, are Missy Mirov, 4½; and Cory Gold, 3½. Missy's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Mirov, is decoration chairman for the affair, while Cory's mother, Mrs. Calvin Gold, is dance chairman.

'Human Element' Wins In Drunk Driving Trial

The Human Element versus Scientific Fact bumped head on in Walnut Creek Justice Court last week and the human element came out on top.

The case, the first jury trial under Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn, was the People vs. Wanona Murphy. The charge: drunk driving. The plea: not guilty.

AFTER THREE days of trial a jury of seven women and five men found the 36-year-old grandmother and widow innocent of the charge.

The crux of the argument between the Contra Costa District Attorney's office's chief prosecutor, David Levy and Defending Attorney James Ring of Ring, Turner and Ring, was:

Can a person be sober if a blood test shows alcoholic content in the blood stream to be above the legal definition of "drunk?"

THE JURY decided after hearing the arguments that scientific fact cannot be overall rule for all the people all the time.

Ring argued the point that "tolerance" is the key factor in the case and called in witnesses substantiating his case.

As the trial developed, it was shown Mrs. Murphy was apprehended by Walnut Creek Police Sergeant Pat O'Donnell February 18 at a.m. on the 502 charge.

Mrs. Murphy contended she had consented to the blood test and, according to police records, failed to pass the state prescribed minimum.

MRS. MURPHY, Ring pointed out, had some drinks, but considering Mrs. Murphy's tolerance to drink (she) was not intoxicated."

Levy retorted to Ring's statements that the law was based on scientific fact and the law had been written only after extensive scientific research and testing.

William Dunbar, bartender at the Brittany Inn in Walnut Creek where Mrs. Murphy had been drinking, testified that the woman refused a drink and told him prior to her leaving:

"No, I've had enough to drink. I've got to drive."

RING CONTENDED this indicated the woman "knew full well she had to drive and knew her own limitatiions."

The jury agreed with the defense and after 4½ hours of deliberation returned the not guilty verdict.

Ring was assisted by his brother, C. Terence Ring, senior partner, in the cross examination of one witness.

Legal observers claimed at trial's end the verdict returned by the jury will set a precedent in county legal affairs.

ONE ATTORNEY, who did not wish his name used for "professional reasons,' said:

"It has been seldom argued that scientific data written into law may be incorrect. This judgement proves beyond the shadow of doubt that the individual case is the basis by which all must be judged as to being guilty or innocent.

"Our law protects us and will continue to protect the individual as long as we walk into court as innocent persons," he concluded.

Youth Harvest Jobs Are Open, Says County

MORE THAN 300 jobs in fruit and nut harvesting now are open to teenage boys through the Youth Employment Service of Central and Eastern Contra Costa County.

Boys were interviewed this week at the four high schools in the Mt. Diablo Unified District, reports Milan Wight, work coordinator for the school district.

On the basis that teen-age employes screened for dependability and given some training are more satisfactory, the youth employment project included interviews by both the school and the Pittsburg office of the California State Department of Employment.

A TRAINING session and field demonstration also will be held soon, Wight says.

School interviews were conducted at Mt. Diablo High School, Pleasant Hill High School, Pacifica High School and Clayton Valley High School.

Training sessions will be conducted at the four schools between April 8 and May 1.

AT THE TIME of interview, each boy was assigned to a farm to report for a field demonstration, which will be followed by a second field demonstration at Brentwood Irrigated Farms. Dates will be May 16 or May 23.

About 200 jobs are available in the apricot harvest June 15 to July 15, another 100 in pears from August 1 to September 7, and week-end jobs in walnuts between September 10 and October 20, Wight adds.

All boys are screened for physical fitness. They must be 16 years of age or older by July 1.

Boundries Being Checked for Incorporation

Boundaries for the proposed town of Lafayette are being checked by the county assessor's office.

THE 10-SQUARE mile area is now being surveyed by county agents.

If Lafayette becomes a city it will be the county's eleventh and largest municipality.

The board of supervisors will meet May 5 to receive the petition, but it might be presented before that time if the assessors complete their job.

Minister Accepts Carson City Post

Daughters and sons—the Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Daughters and their four sons—will soon be leaving this community, where Daughters has served for the past year and a half as assistant to the rector, the Rev. Albert Lucas, at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, for Carson City, Nevada, where Daughters will be rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

While here, the Daughters have made their home in Acalanes Valley, and Daughters has been active as a member of the Lafayette Kiwanis Club.

Three school-age boys have involved their parents in the affairs of several schools, and Mrs. Daughters has served for the past year as membership chairman of the Vallecito P.T.A.

Their son, Tad, 15, is a freshman at Acalanes High School; Howard, 13, is an 8th grader at Stanley School; Carl, 12, is in 6th grade at Vallecito School, and John, 4, is a busy preschooler.

The Daugthers came to the bay area from eastern Washington, where Daughters had served as rector of several parishes.

He studied at the University of Montana and Washington State College, and farmed for eight years before entering the ministry.

In his new post, Daughters will be rector of the oldest continuous Episcopal parish in the state of Nevada, and will serve as chaplain to the state legislature and at the state prison.

The congregation at St. Stephen's is planning an open house honoring the Daughters family on Sunday, April 26, from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the church.

Daughters will leave for Carson City the first part of May, but Mrs. Daughters and the boys will remain here until the end of the school year.

Responsibility a Must DA John Nejedly Warns

By FRED FROMM

The public must accept its responsibilities in child molestation cases, District Attorney John Nejedly said Wednesday night at an open meeting of the Lafayette Improvement Association in Lafayette Town Hall.

"Too often," Nejedly said, "people fail to report cases of this type. Even when they do, often they do not want to appear publicly in court to give evidence."

Nejedly's statement highlighted the meeting which saw almost 100 persons in attendance. Many Acalanes High School students were present, along with area parents.

THE SUBJECT matter had been prompted by two earlier instances of child molestation in the area, said John Skillman, LIA program chairman.

Nejedly was prepared to air it well.

"Child molestation creates many problems," he said. "The burglar knows he is commiting a crime. In sex cases the perpetrator doesn't recognize this. He looks at it this way: 'It's a crime only because society says it is so'."

A point of interest is that many things we consider crimes are not crimes in other countries, but common practice, pointed out Nejedly.

CHILD molestation generally is not discussed in public circles, said Nejedly. Too much notoriety, court appearances. It all adds up to too little cooperation.

"The main trouble is the failure to report. This gives the criminal a false sense of security. He thinks he can get away with the crime indefinitely. That is nothing but trouble for us," Nejedly said.

Often, however, there are exceptions.

The District Attorney cited an instance in which reported child molestation worked a hardship. He recalled two cases in which persons reported the crime. Later the accused was found innocent. Then the reporting people were castigated by neighbors.

THE CHILD, strangely, also is a problem in molestation.

"Children nave lively imaginations," Nejedly illustrated. "They fabricate stories to make themselves points of interest. They like to see the police car before the house, much in the same way they turn in a false alarm just to see the fire truck coming down the street."

This creates many problems.

"We must exercise care in investigating the foundation of a complaint," Nejedly said. "We have found in many cases that there is no basis for complaint, so we must be very careful before apprehension."

IT WAS brought out that California has special instructions in molestation. The charge is easily made, the state reminds. A charge often is tantamount to conviction. There is a stigma attached.

Even if innocent, most people recognize, a shadow still is cast and often people have to leave their neighbors and their communities.

SOLUTION of child molestation involves three things, Nejedly said.

1. If you feel there is any case of child molestation, report it! Report all details, not that you just saw a man, or something or other CCC law enforcement doesn't have the personnel to do the job it should, but with help in reporting details part of the investigation can be expedited.

2. Before making a charge of this kind, be sure your children are telling the truth. When positive, call the district attorney or Sheriff Walter F. Young, and immediate action will be forthcoming.

3. It is not the end merely to report to the district attorney or the sheriff. You must accept the responsibility of presenting evidence at the trial.

ONE OTHER thing will be done to assure citizens in child molestation cases, Nejedly said. The district attorney's office will be directly concerned:

1. To make sure there is a crime, and the right person is being arrested.

2. To make certain the child boy in a nearby town," he remembered. "The child came home one day late from school. His mother punished him and put him to bed. But before she punished him, the boy told his mother he had been picked up by a man, taken to an old railroad section and detained and molested.

"The mother didn't believe him. She put him to bed, and didn't question or examine him.

"About a month later a young man was brought in and he told of bothering the boy. When the mother found out about it she broke into tears — because she hadn't believed her child."

does not come into court frightened if we have a case.

The problem here is, Nejedly pointed out, that judges are concerned with ease of accusation in child molestation. They allow greater latitude in cross examination. This the defense uses to advantage.

"WE MUST keep this to a minimum, and it can only be done through strict control of cross examination," Nejedly said.

Sheriff Young, though not prepared to speak on molestation recalled an instance which told a graphic story.

"It seems there was a little

What is a Realtor? He Works for Area and You

Competent and trustworthy real estate men and women are organized as "Realtors" to insure their professional status and maximum service for the customer.

For years, home buyers and sellers have been benefitting from the resolve of Contra Costa Realtors to afford the best, through their Multiple Listing Service and their own strict rules of conduct and procedure.

The fine reputation won by the realtors, and as a result for the central county as an ideal area in which to settle and live, did not come easy.

THE FORWARD looking real estate people laid the groundwork years ago.

And every day they are working to keep what they have won, and make settling or moving in this area easier and more economical, eliminating the "pitfalls" which await the inexperienced young family.

It is natural, during Realtor Week, for the citizen to ask "What Is a Realtor?"

Not every real estate broker is a Realtor.

Only those accepted for membership by the National Association of Real Estate Boards through your local real estate board or as individuals are Realtors and may use the term as their trademark.

WHEN PERSONS engaged in the real estate calling are admitted to membership in your local real estate board and in NAREB, they pledge themselves to observe NAREB's strict code of ethics.

Their acceptance is based, too, upon good business character and a demonstration that they are capable of properly caring for the real estate matters entrusted to them.

Realtor has come to connote competence, fair dealing, and high integrity resulting from adherence to this lofty ideal of moral conduct in business relations.

Specifically, how does this code of ethics obligate the Realtor to act in the best interests of the public?

1. Learn all pertinent facts about the property for which he accepts the agency so that in offering it he may fulfill his obligation to avoid error, exaggeration, or misrepresentation.

2. Protect the public against fraud, misrepresentation, or unethical conduct in the real estate field by endeavoring to prevent damaging practices and by cooperating with the state real estate commission in enforcing proper procedure.

3. BE WELL informed on current market conditions and be in a position to advise his clients as to fair worth under the existing market.

4. Endeavor always to be informed regarding the law, proposed legislation, legal orders issued, and essential facts and public policies which affect the veloped the land resource of the the public.

Besides the obligations of his everyday business, the Realtor recognizes the grave social responsibilities which are his because of his particular calling. This understanding he has set forth in the preamble to his code of ethics:

"Under all is the land. . . . The Realtor has husbanded and developed the lan resource of the nation, and, with his help, ownership has attained its widest distribution—a distinguishing mark that differentiates this from other civilizations and provides the real safeguard against radical impenetrations.

"THE REALTOR is a creator of homes, both urban and rural, and by his activities helps mold the form of his future community, not only in the living of its people, but in its commercial and industrial aspects.

"Such functions impose obligations beyond those of ordinary business; they impose grave social responsibilities which the Realtor can meet only by diligent preparation and by dedicating himself as a civic duty to their fulfillment. . . .

'Kit' on Incorporation Published by University

A complete "how-to-do-it" kit for setting up new cities, or for extending city boundaries, has been issued by the bureau of public administration at the University of California, Berkeley, it was announced today.

The "kit" is in the form of a study titled, "Annexation? Incorporation?—A Guide for Community Action," providing a complete step-by-step outline of the procedures to be followed in annexation or incorporation, with samples of all the legal forms and documents required.

ITS AUTHORS, Stanley Scott, public administration analyst, and Lewis Keller, associate counsel for the League of California Cities, say the guide is intended as an aid to "grass roots" democracy in action, and should enable citizens' governmental study committees to investigate their own local problems with some outside help.

The authors emphasize, however, that citizens' committees acting without professional assistance normally cannot make the kind of study and investigation required for a full factual survey of annexation and incorporation.

Expert assistance, preferably on a full-time basis, is essential while the study is being made, they advise.

THE NEW Guide, the third revised edition since it was first issued in 1953, emphasizes that the financial aspects of annexation or incorporation must be placed in their proper perspective.

SUCH ACTION in unincorporated areas might bring about a net decrease in total overall property tax rates, or may result in moderate increases, Scott and Keller state, but in general, annexation or incorporation will have a very small impact on the total cost of living.

The authors of the guide find that the non-financial considerations of annexation or incorporation are seldom given proper weight in studies to determine the wisest course of community action.

They also find that a carefully organized program of public information is essential if the fact-finding studies are to be effectively presented to the voters of the community concerned.

THERE ARE many possibilities for governmental change in addition to simple annexation and incorporation, according to the newly-revised community action guide.

These include "limited" annexation, or the provision of differential service areas and differential tax rates within a city; establishment of federated municipality under California's constitutional provision for "borough" government in charter cities; and city-county consolidation, with or without some proviison for a "borough" plan.

The borough plan, most prominently in effect in New York and Toronto, and under consideration in the governmental reorganization of Sacramento, offers a wide variety of arrangements for the division of powers and functions between the top level area-wide government and individual boroughs within that area, according to the authors. In describing this type of arrangement, they suggest that such functions as general revenue and taxation, regional and general planning, area-wide facilities for sewage and refuse disposal, regional park and recreation facilities, police functions, major highways, regional water supply, etc., could be administered on an area-wide basis, while such matters as local planning and zoning, local streets and roads, local community centers, parks and playgrounds, local library buildings, etc., could be placed in the hands of the individual boroughs.

Fluoridation Bills Due for Gov't Hearings

A bill to place the question of fluoridation in the hands of the people will have a public hearing in Sacramento Monday.

This is S.B. 865, introduced by Sen. Holmdahl, and is supported by dental societies and health officers.

THE BILL authorizes a water district to add fluorine to the public water supply only if a majority of the voters have voted in favor of it.

Another bill—A.B. 1463—is also up for a hearing.

This one would prohibit adding anything to a water supply.

A.B. 1463 is opposed by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers and the California State Dental Association.

If A.B. 1463 should pass the legislature it would become operative on January 1, 1964.

Miramonte Pool Bids Rejected as Too High

Acalanes High School district trustees turned down two bids on construction of a swimming pool at Miramonte High School in Orinda as "too high,' and instructed the district architect to modify plans for the pool to lower the costs.

A bid of $94,854 was received from Landon Pools, and $84,500 from Raffi-Bedayn.

TRUSTEES HAD hoped that the pool could be built for $50,000 to $60,000. Plans for the Miramonte pool are similar to those for the pool at Las Lomas High, which cost about $49,000 four years ago.

A community drive in Orinda has raised $5,000 towards the construction costs of the Miramonte pool.

A new call for bids will be made.

Superintendent Neil Parsons reported that the district architect has taken over details for carrying through the proposed construction of lighting standards on the Little League Baseball Diamond on the Acalanes campus as requested by the Lafayette Youth Association.

THE YOUTH Association presented a plan for light installation at the March board meeting and stated that it was prepared to meet the cost of the project.

Parsons also said that meetings are underway with the district architect to "finalize" plans for the second construction wave at Del Valle High.

Current construction provides for completion of about 50 per cent of the ultimate plant.

Plans for additional contracts to be let in the summer-fall include science classrooms and laboratories and arts and crafts rooms.

IN OTHER action trustees approved:

Furniture bids totalling $13,901 for student, teacher desks, library tables, folding chairs and other furniture principally for the new Del Valle school.

Adopted text books next year from the state list of approved books as recommended by district-wide staff study committees in the fields of French, Latin, algebra, world geography, history and physics.

Approved employment of seven additional teachers for next year, bringing the total of new teachers approved so far to eleven. Nineteen new teachers are anticipated for next year to meet expected enrollment growth in addition to hiring replacements as required, Superintendent Parsons reported.

Approved enlarging the classroom area of the auto theory class at Las Lomas to make room for instructional "mock-ups and models."

AUTHORIZED board membership in a teacher proposed Board-Administrative - Teacher Study committee on salary and personnel problems with the board to be represented by trustees Ralph Hall and William Hall.

Tabled a report for enlarging tennis courts at Miramonte High, pending a review of the district's building budget.

Named Will Hall to present diplomas to Acalanes graduates (his son Tom Hall is graduating from Acalanes); Alice McBride to present diplomas at Las Lomas; Ralph Hall to Miramonte, and William Lee to evening high school graduates.

New Lewis & Lewis Store Opening Today in Hayward

In 1936, 23 years ago, Clifford and Melville Lewis, brothers, opened a small carpet store located at 262 Sutter Street in San Francisco. In 1948 the present store in Oakland was opened.

THIS MODERN building located at 2127 Broadway was especially designed to provide proper display of full rolls of carpet and was equipped with special lighting effects to show carpets in actual daylight lighting so customers could view the carpets under the same lighting conditions as would exist in their own homes.

In 1954 Lewis & Lewis opened their third store at 3406 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette. This store with its more than 12,000 square foot area is almost entirely enclosed with glass. These "walls of glass" have made the location a showplace among stores.

Two years later plans were completed and another modern store was opened in the Hillsdale-San Mateo vicinity.

This new location, located at 38th Avenue and El Camino Real was patterned after the design of the Lafayette store. It was designed by the same well known Bay Area architect, Frederick Confer who drew the plans for the building in which the present Lafayette store is located.

CLIFFORD LEWIS, who has been associated with the carpet business in the Bay Area for 39 years attributes his success to his shrewd buying practices. His steadfast policy of buying the finest carpets from reliable mills in sizeable quantities and in full rolls has enabled him to provide his customers with the best possible values as well as complete confidence in their purchases.

Lewis & Lewis, now recognized as the leading Bay Area carpet specialists, will open another store today in Hayward.

The location, 22406 Foothill Boulevard.

This newest store with its more than 140 foot depth will be managed by William McAvoy, formerly with Capwells floor covering department.

McAvoy resides in Hayward with his wife and two children at 1228 Thornwall Lane.

Chamber Joins National Group

Businessmen in Orinda have teamed with 2,500,000 others throughout the nation to work for good citizenship, good government and good business.

BY JOINING the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Orinda Chamber of Commerce takes its place with more than 2,700 chambers and some 300 trade associations in an organization which wields a powerful influence in national affairs, and which will bring to Orinda the advantages of pooled information, ideas and advice about improving the local community.

In the national chamber, American businessmen work as a team.

They work on the theory that business cannot flourish and expand, and conditions cannot improve in one area or one field, if the country as a whole is not strong, productive and prosperous.

THE FUTURE of Orinda therefore, becomes a matter of concern to businessmen all over the country.

At the same time, local businessmen obtain a voice in framing policies which guide the national organization as it copes with the urgent and complex problems of these troubled times.

Soroptimists Contribute Scholarship to Hospital

Lafayette - Orinda Soroptimist Club members have contributed an $830 scholarship to Merritt Hospital School of Nursing in Oakland, Mrs. Maurine Bridwell, R.N., Director of the School, announced.

The gift to Merritt's revolving scholarship fund was made after the Soroptimist Club members heard Marilyn Knott '60, Merritt's Student Nurse of the Year, speak at a recent club meeting.

Mrs. Alma Blakesley, 3406B Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, is president of the group.

"Scholarships as generous as this mean more qualified young women can be educated as nurses," Mrs. Bridwell declared in accepting the Soroptimist Club's contribution.

"Tuition costs have gone up for all schools of nursing. Without scholarships, some girls are forced to abandon nursing and go directly into other work."

Merritt Hospital School of Nursing, founded 50 years ago, has recently affiliated with Mills College for teaching of basic sciences. Its 1500 graduates include directors of nursing, hospital, school, office, industrial and private duty nurses, and leaders in community affairs.

Soroptimists Hear Service Group Leaders

Introduced at the Tuesday meeting of the Lafayette-Orinda Soroptimist Club were the presidents of service organizations at Acalanes High School.

Vera Richardson, dean of Girls and chairman of the day, presented Julie Summer, Madeline Bryant and Pat Tharsing, seniors at Acalanes.

Each spoke briefly about her group and pointed out the service of particular interest to them.

Julie Sommer, president of the Academic Education Association discussed the necessity of understanding the teaching profession.

A student internship program has begun at Spring Hill School, she said.

Seniors interested in education as a future profession spend three hours a week in the classrooms, observing the children and broadening their own experiences in the educational field.

Julie concluded that the group is interested in the legislative bills and programs on Education and teaching.

The Exchange Student Program is of special interest to Madeline Bryant, president of the American Field Service Group at Acalanes.

Two students, selected from the high school go to foreign countries during the summer.

They spend six weeks in the homes of families and have the opportunity to learn the customs and language and to promote goodwill in international relationships.

Twelve countries have been represented at Acalanes since the inception of this program.

These students come from other countries and stay for the school year at the homes of families in Lafayette.

A Long Objective Look Might Put Lid Back on

The unrest between the administration and the faculty of the Contra Costa Junior College District has simmered long enough.

At least the hassle is out in the open, instead of perking under a tight lid, which it has obviously been doing for some time.

And with the eruption comes a study of the situation by the Contra Costa County Grand Jury.

As in most instances of this kind, the facts are confused.

HOWEVER, ONE OBVIOUS fact emerges. There are problems and action and a solution are badly needed.

Since the controversy started, the junior college board of trustees has done a good deal of arm waving and certain recriminations have appeared on both sides of the fence.

Nevertheless, a good, authoritative committee, composed largely of well qualified educators prepared the report that led to the dispute.

This report makes it mandatory that a study of the situation be conducted. The board simply can't sit by and wave its hands and say this is wrong. This is not a realistic approach.

The grand jury will investigate the matter. This is good. Our present grand jury is both active and conscientious and will see that the matter is cleared up to the best of its ability.

THE BOARD CANNOT simply state that the faculty is all wrong and let it go at that.

This conflict has shaken some people up, and it has certainly hung a large question mark over the junior college district.

Whitewashing somebody is not the answer . . . nor is it necessary to find a scrape-goat.

But we do recommend that the junior college board carry the ball. It is a matter of cleaning up your own house, not leaving the task to someone else.

THE BOARD SHOULD step back and take a long, objective look at the situation and come up with the answers and a plan of action.

If the board cannot do this, perhaps it should appoint a committee of qualified citizens—a really objective group—which could do the job.

Because the job must be done. The situation cannnot be allowed to wither away with no concrete action, and thus smolder until it breaks out again as it has this time.

Blame is not the major point. Corrective action is, but it must be fair and objective action, not recrimination.

Do You Know Where Junior Is? Not the Pool, We Hope!

This is certainly swimming weather!

If you look around town, whether you're working or shopping, you'll note many a local business man or woman, many a clerk, with that far-a-way look in the eyes that means, "I'ld sure like to be stretched out by the pool this afternoon. What a day!"

And each weekend you can hear the happy splashing from the neighborhood pool, or from the neighbor's pool next door.

THIS IS THE KIND of living we enjoy in Central Contra Costa County! But like most other pleasureable things, it is not without responsibility.

A news story appeared recently in the columns of The Sun reporting the narrow escape of a local family. A child fell into a swimming pool, and was revived by the mother barely in time to save its life.

Unfortunately, this is not an uncommon occurrence.

Unfortunately, the ending is not always this happy.

THEY DON'T ENJOY having to talk to the parents after the tragedy has happened.

And you know how inquisitive children are. It seems that no matter how many precautions you take, they find a way to frustrate you and end up just where you don't want them to be!

But it only takes one trip to the swimming pool at the wrong time and a young life is wasted.

Most community pools and our pools at schools have strict rules and they enforce them. Most private pool owners are very careful about their pools, and take care to see that "uninvited" guests don't just "drop in."

BUT STILL, the stories keep cropping up in the news columns about the drowning or near death of a small child, attracted by that fascinating pool of water.

This does not mean that we need live in constant fear, because that is no way to enjoy life.

But with Spring in full swing and summer on the way, it does mean that we might look to our precautions.

A Real Service Is Rendered

Do you belong to a service club?

Does your wife, or husband, as the case may be, belong to one?

If such is the case, you have reason to be proud, because the impact for good on a community, through service club actions and spirit, cannot be underestimated.

And it's easy to forget that the women are pretty active in this kind of community service too!

We're not talking about all that moral support that the wives give their husbands . . . we're talking about the active functioning women's service clubs.

EVERYBODY KNOWS about service clubs. You can't miss the signs as you approach the community. There are Lions and Kiwanis and Rotary, The Y's Men and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The distaff side bosts The Soroptimists, Sertoma and the various Business and Professional Women's groups.

These are just examples. And each works for the community betterment in its own way.

It's more than just getting together for lunch, or breakfast, or dinner. This is important, and fellowship is a welcome thing to most of us.

BUT THE PROJECTS, both permanent and temporary, carried out by these clubs, reflect in the lives of thousands of people, both in our community and throughout the world.

We are fortunate to have these service clubs with us. They are making this a better place for all of us. This is truly unselfish action.

We say, "Hats Off" to all the service clubs!

What's Between the Covers?

By DICK OSBORN

"Read any good books lately?"

This question is frequently used as a joke, and maybe, for all I know, stems from a certain anti-intellectual strain in our societal makeup.

Sort of unfortunate, too, considering that some of my best friends are books.

This column is certainly not going to be a boring treatise on my personal tastes in reading material, because there are probably as many tastes in this matter as there are people.

BUT IT IS NATIONAL Library Week, and there are a lot of things that ought to be said. They never get said during the rest of the year!

The Contra Costa Library is doing an excellent job. This department of our county government provides a real service, and sometimes, under a very real handicap.

And we're willing to bet that none of you (we didn't either!) sent County Librarian Bertha Hellum so much as a Christmas card!

Our thanks should also go to the many hard working staff members of system! Last year there were 66,028 separate and distinct queries were answered.

Man, that's a lot of questions!

I CAN REMEMBER back to my salad days, when I was just learning to read, and recall that many, many happy hours in the various libraries, and for the friendly help they provide when you just can't quite find the book you want to read.

SPEAKING OF these people, they seem to have a real insight. When you "can't find the right book" it frequently indicates that you just plain don't know what you want to read.

And these library people can come up with the best suggestions! If they had their way, you'd spend all your time curled up with a book!

We mentioned service a while back. A friend of mine wanted a certain book, but it wasn't available in the county library system. So what happened? Did my friend have to go without a book?

Not on your life! The county library department cheerfully ordered a copy of same from the state library in Sacramento, and in a jiffy, too!

That's service, and it is provided in many ways. Statistics are generally boring, but here are a couple of figures you might consider.

If you get tired when little Johnny keeps asking "why", consider the reference questions answered by the library were spent in the Berkeley Public Library.

Of course, I have friends who smile archly and comment that all my reading hasn't improved my mind a bit. That's what they think! They just don't know what I started out with!

"She rang my doorbell one April morning six years ago as I was Spring cleaning. She was one of 2,000,000 volunteers helping to raise funds for the American Cancer Society's Crusade . . . I gave what I could and hoped she'd leave quickly so I could get on with my work. But she said she wanted to tell me some facts for my own good, about cancer.

"She said that many cancers are curable if detected early and treated promptly, and that every adult in our family should have a health checkup every year . . . no matter how well we may feel. She left me a pamphlet listing cancer's seven danger signals which I got around to reading a few days later. I was startled to see that a symptom I'd been ignoring . . . hoping it would 'go away' . . . was on that list! The pamphlet said 'if your signal lasts longer than two weeks, go to your doctor to learn if it means cancer.'

"You can bet I did just that! My doctor found I did have cancer and I had my operation a week later.

"My doctor says I owe my life to the fact that I came to him in time. But I'll always feel I owe my life to a stranger."

For your copy of life-saving facts about cancer, write to the Unit of the AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY in your community.

No More Caterpillars In the Coffee Cups . . .

By MARIE MONAHAN

THE TREE SPRAY men have come & gone. It's Doomsday for the would-be oak moths.

The Spray People are a tree's Best Friend.

They are also a caterpillar's Worst Enemy.

THEY ALSO have a way of showing up on the stepping stones at the moment you LEAST expect them. The Spray men, & the caterpillars, too. We forgot about the note a few weeks back telling us they'd be around soon to spray.

Maybe they should add a P.S. to the gentle reminder.

LIKE P.S.—"Do not attempt to wash ALL your windows, Madam, until AFTER we've sprayed."

And P. S. again—"Do not water down your garden, Madam, soaking it for hours. We will arrive just as you turn the last sprinkler off. And we must water all over again. (Hard on the water bill.) Thank you."

Well, Live & Learn.

With the windows ALL washed that morning, we took to the sun. Outside we went with the coffee pot, the pillows & pads. Even the baby kittens in their basket.

SOAKING UP OL' SOL & listening to the radio. Tapping on the typewriter while the hoses hissed away.

It looked just like Life in the South Seas. Like all the carefree writers one reads about.

And then the Spray People came, routing us out of our Tropical Dream.

Clear the Decks! Batten down the Hatches! It was like Moving Day.

Back inside went the pillows, the kittens, the coffeepot, etcetera & us.

Blast away, here comes the hose!

The Spray Men shoot the stuff high into the trees. And the rich living for the crawly little critters is over.

No more dips in the coffee cup. No more scrambling over the Potato Salad.

They'll never grow up to be fat plump moths. They just fall dazed or daid all over the place, bailing out on their little threads. What a mess!

One man follows the other around watering everything where the spray has dripped. A foggy film settles a gray look over everything. Us included.

Those writers are right, living in the South Seas. The only trouble with THEIR trees is an occasional coconut konking 'em on the noodle.

No windows to wash, No Income Tax. What a life!

What a mess!

Steve Has Problems of His Own But Aids Cancer Fund

Steven Eastman, 8, has had a lot of time to look at television lately.

First he contracted tenosynavitus. This jaw-breaker of a word is an inflamation of the hip, which sent him to Children's Hospital. But there he came down with the measles and was sent home in traction.

AT HOME at 6 Valley View Road in Orinda, Steven's sisters, Janet, 7, and Cynthia, 3, didn't want to play with him for fear they'd get that terrible long word.

So brown-haired, brown-eyed, freckle-faced Steven looked at television in his traction rig, and later in crutches.

Last week Steven watched a television announcement on the Cancer Crusade and asked his mother for an envelope.

THIS WEEK the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society received an envelope, somewhat painfully addressed by hand to "for care of my post office, Sacramento, Calif."

The envelope had a dime scotch-taped to it, Steven's contribution to the 1959 Cancer Crusade in Orinda next Monday.

Letters to The Editor

CANCER

Dear Editor:

As year-round education representative and 1959 Cancer Crusade Chairman for the community in which I live, I would like to clarify for our neighbors and others interested, the difference between the United and the American Cancer Society's annual fund-raising campaign.

We find many persons are confused on this matter.

As we understand it, the United Crusade was set-up as the best way to support local permanent agencies established to meet a particular need in the locality in which they exist.

The American Cancer Society, on the other hand, is national in scope, temporary in nature, and the needs of its research program can not be budgeted.

Research in cancer can be stepped up in proportion to the increase in financial support. The more money, the more research, the quicker the answer to cancer, and the American Cancer Society as an organization will go out of business.

Thank you for your help in explaining these facts.

GUY F. SPENCER

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Editor:

I want to congratulate you for the outstanding recognition given to The Sun Newspaper by the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

It is my understanding that you received three first place awards for 1958, together with one second place award.

It is my further understanding that the first place awards were for the following:

1. First place, "Best Weekly in California — General Excellence."

2. First place, Best Editorial Page, for weeklies throughout the state.

3. First place for Best Women's Interests Coverage for weeklies throughout the state.

These first place awards are certainly outstanding recognition of the excellent job which you and your staff have been doing. The Sun Newspapers have achieved a very fine reputation in the communities they serve.

You have rendered a great civil service in developing such a fine newspaper and I am sure that all of the communities served by your newspaper join with me in taking pride in the awards you have received.

With kindest regards,
JOHN F. BALDWIN

Vital Question: What Can We Do About Taxes?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The other night at a neighborhood improvement association I led a discussion on the major problems of the area. We had a bull-session. Talk revolved about government, schools, freeways, rapid transit, incorporation and annexation, etc. The foremost problem boiled down to money—that is taxes.

I asked for a show of hands as to whether they consider our taxes too high. Everyone raised his hand; it was unanimous. I then asked for a show of hands if they thought taxes could be reduced or at least held to this year's level. The answer was a no vote.

The residents were realistic, realizing that in this period of inflation plus growth of population taxes will not be decreased.

But we need so much

And we all agreed that, while we don't want to pay more taxes, we want and need more services. A prime example is rapid transit. We must have fast-moving, convenient, comfortable rapid transit in this area, along with the rest of the Bay Area. The five-county Rapid Transit District is now working on plans. This is a multi-million dollar project—and someone will have to pay for it—you and me. A bond election will be on the ballot next year.

We need another tunnel (3 lanes) punched through the hills to Oakland. We need more freeways, roads, schools, sewers, flood conirol, pclice protection, government buildings, recreation, libraries, hospitals, public transportation, etc. These require money—taxes, in most cases.

In other words, if we demand more services, we must pay for them.

Do we like new taxes?

The purpose of this column is not to justify new taxes. (A few weeks ago this column opposed new state spending and additional state taxes). A purpose of the column, however, is to point out that we cannot demand many expensive new services and yet scream about taxes to pay for them.

What is the answer?

I do not know. But there are several ideas to consider.

First, we may need additional services that we simply cannot afford. We must decide what is most important; finance what we decide upon; and not complain about the others. Perhaps you would like a sheriff or police car to pass your house every night. This would be expensive and we must settle for a car "somewhere within 15 or 20 minutes" of your home at any time. Perhaps we want special classes not now offered in our schools. Or improved school bus service. Or longer open hours for the library. Or additional stop lights, better roads, storm drains, golf courses, parks, recreation facilities, etc.

We should let our public officials know what we favor or can do without. Help them decide. We can do this individually or through our various organizations. A prime example is the school budget. We all scream about school taxes—and yet usually no one appears at the school budget hearing conducted each summer.

Spend Tax Dollars Wisely

Another approach to taxes is to demand honest and efficient use of the tax dollar. For years The Sun has pointed out that Contra Costa County government wastes tax dollars in many, many ways. Each year the grand jury recommends improvements and changes. In the past, officials usually ignored these suggestions. Now, however, the atmosphere in Martinez is changing and "public servants" are much more responsive to recommendations.

For real efficiency, the entire County government must be overhauled. It is still cow-county government in form. (General law county instead of a charter county). Our county board of supervisors is still serving as the executive branch as well as the county legislature. The supervisors should be the board of directors, with a county manager serving as the key executive to execute the board's policy.

I believe this is coming. The supervisors are delegating more and more authority to the county administrator. New legislation in Sacramento, if enacted, will eliminate most of the elected county officials (such as coroner, clerk, auditor, etc.) and place them directly under the supervision of the supervisors and the administ ator. The board has endorsed this bill. I hope it passes.

It is a long, hard road to changing to a charter form of government. However, this may be necessary in the future.

In the meanwhile, take a good look at your tax bill!

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

Well—the Lombardy bridge-luncheon, held in many lovely Orinda homes, was a BIG success and a delight to all who attended. Weeks of planning and hard work were rewarded by a capacity turn out. Decorations and menu were identical at each location.

Card tables were centered with three fragile sea shells from which a luscious water lilly bloomed. Upon each lilly perched a delicately-gauzy, pastel butterfly. The "top secret" menu was a ance. This was a gourmet concoction of french pancakes filled with chicken and mushrooms literally melting in a succulent cream sauce. Guests were allowed to buy the recipe.

Also there was a tangy salad of fresh fruits topped with honeyed dressing, hot "yum-yum" rolls and a dessert of assorted, filled lady fingers.

And Another on Tap, at That!

Already the Lombardy gals are busy planning their next affair which will be held on June 13 at Ruth and Hugh McIntyre's home in Orinda. Joyce Poulsen will be the chairman of this "Tea Dansant" with hours from five to eight. There will be a three piece combo and even shuttle service from the Orinda Country Club. Save the date—sounds "real cool."

With the snow rapidly melting—several families made hurried plans to wind up the season. The Robert Underhills and the Bill Harris', with all children intact, headquartered near Reno—spending many hours on the sunny slopes.

Joyce and Carl Marino finally gave into the PERSISTANT persuasion of their two young sons, Gregory and Kent, and made a trip to Pine Crest. Wisely they stayed strictly to safe (?) tobogganing, very unlike some friends of theirs, Gloria and Don Schultz. The Schultzs visited Soda Springs where there was a tremendous crowd, good weather and perfect skiing conditions.

Ten minutes before they were to take off for Reno to play those "machines" Gloria took to the slopes. With small children in their path and unexpected dips, the usual happened—torn ligaments in the ankle. Things like this seem to be running in their family for Don recently had a similar experience.

A Different Way to Entertain

Harry and Eileen Askham spent a "different Sunday recently, along with 20 of their relatives. All dined at the "New Franciscan" restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf. Afterwards the small fry—10 in all—played pirates and toured the "Barracuda."

The Russell Smiths of Lafayette entertained guests with a delicious buffet dinner prior to the dance given by the "Seabury Club" of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek. This is an annual dance held the Friday night following Easter Sunday at the Mt. Diablo Country Club. The ballroom was beautifully decorated in a Mediterranean Holiday theme and the affair was a great success with proceeds going this time to St. Anselms.

Those enjoying the hospitality of the Smiths were the Paul Dalys, George MacCormicks, Frank Roachs, Theron Nelsons, Walter Curlins, Allen Reeves, Walter Olivieras, E. E. Leightons, Sherman Paynes, Evert Hodges and Rei Westlyes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Howe entertained with a dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hamilton who have left for Dusseldorf, Germany, where they will spend a year. Other guests were the Roy Prices, Phillip Ferris, Robert Wilsons and Ray Beasleys.

Phyllis and Charles Bowers celebrated their anniversary Saturday night with dinner at "Ernie's" in the City. The Fred C. Blumbergs accompanied them. The same night Pat and Don White were among those present at a large dinner party given by the Richard Starnes of Berkeley. Early the next morning the White family made their usual week-end trip to Aptos where they have an OH! so scrumptuous beach house.

Busy, too, are the pre-teen Girl Scouts of Troop 280 who have just completed a charm course given by chic Bette Read.

They learned how to sit and walk properly, good grooming and each was analized as to the most beneficial lines and color for her to wear. Now they are in the throes of rehearsals for a play, "A Finger in Art," which will be presented for "Girl Scouts in Action" at Acalanes on April 25. How the troop's leader, Mrs. Roger Black, does it I'll never know.

And How About Your Spare Time?

Not only does she have this group but also a Brownie troop and a Cub Scout den! The girls, most of whom attended the Walnut Creek School seventh grade dance Friday night are—Betsy Bailes, Augusta De Simone, Susan Burrin, Patsy Boycroft, Mimi Geffel, Linda Black, Suzanne Treat, Nancy Stotts, Barrie Lee Bliesner, Nancy MacNeil, Jean Myers and Jean Tomlinson.

Bobbye and Bill McGuire (those LUCKY ones who attended the opening Giant game Tuesday—along with the Stan Holmgrens) were hosts to their bridge club Friday night. Guests were the Holmgrens (who substituted for the Art Comerfords), Art Lundblads and Carrell Pattersons. The Lundblads won AGAIN! and it is the feeling of the group that they should be given a handicap! Bobbye and Bill are making plans for a pre-dance party before the next Hill and Dale dance on April 25 and for a trip to Alisal soon. Her mother, Mrs. Lauda Hyde, and their adorable young son, Robbie, will be with them. This will be Robbie's first experience of being away from home.

Luncheon-card parties given simultaneously in different homes are certainly the thing these days. The next one coming up will be given by the Heidi Chapter of Children's Home Society. Members who have offered their homes are the Mmes. Arthur Steifvater, Morriss Browning, Glenn Stubblefied, O. R. Hayes, Gilbert Myers, S. DeAngelis, Everet Fuller and Robert Mossman.

Was so sorry to have had to miss the always fabulous "Flicker Fashion Show-Luncheon" at Castlewood Country Club last Saturday. From all reports it was the best ever and we'll find out more about it for next week's column.

Gladiolus Bulbs Should be Set At Intervals

Here are things to do this week in your garden:

1. Gladiolus bulbs are still available and should be planted now and some a few weeks apart for a succession of bloom through summer and into fall.

2. Dahlias are at the top of April planting lists. Like glads, these can be set out over a period of several weeks to get a longer run of blooms.

3. That Easter Lily which has been sitting in its pot neglected since it went out of bloom can be planted out in the garden. Choose a well drained spot and work some peat moss into the ground before planting.

4. Primroses that are overcrowded can be divided when they've gone out of bloom. If you're in doubt about it, figure that a plant left for three years should be ready to divide.

5. Fuchsias are available in nurseries now. The sooner you get them started the bigger your show of fuchsias in bloom this summer.

6. Take home a headful of ideas for beautifying your home by attending the Annual California Spring Garden and Home Show, April 18-26 at the Oakland Exposition Building.

Theme of this year's show is "Northern Lights and Southern Shadows," honoring the new states of Alaska and Hawaii. No gardener worthy of his green thumb should miss this exciting event.

Choral Group Meets at Fulghum Home

The Spring Concert is to be given at the Stanley School, Lafayette. Proceeds will go to the Las Trampas School for the Retarded.

...to keep gas and electricity cheap in California

Our mechanical drills churn out a 6-foot pole-hole in 15 minutes or less! And with 40,000 holes to dig each year, this saves thousands of hours and dollars. Efficiencies like this help keep gas and electricity cheap in California. Mighty important since you're using them more every year. (The average home today has 50% more appliances than 10 years ago.) As you live better with low-cost energy, count on us to keep it a bargain.

Summer Show of Hanging Baskets at Nurseries Now

Visit a nursery on any summer day and you can't help but notice the change. It's something like finding an oasis in the desert. Temperatures drop several degrees and there's a wonderful feeling of freshness all about.

If you stop to analyze the experience, you inevitably conclude that it's all those lush hanging baskets overhead. And you are right.

TRUE, the other shrubs have something to do with it, as does frequent watering. But we have both shrubs and water in our own garden and however frequently we combine them, the effect isn't there without some color overhead. Make the comparison yourself if you doubt it.

Members of the California Association of Nurserymen are planning the summer show of hanging baskets right now. And if you want to reap full benefit of similar planting at home, you'd best take the hint and do likewise.

THERE'S NO problem about what to plant, since your choice is wide. The most popular with the C.A.N. nurserymen are Tuberius Begonias, Ivy Geranium and fuchsias. But these are by no means the only choice. Pigeon's-beak with its feathery gray foliage and crimson flowers is often see nin nurseries. Italian Bellflower's crisp green foliage and star-like white bloom lend a cooling touch. Annual trailing Lobelia and Petunias are not to be overlooked.

If choice is not the problem, however, the way you plant your plant in a big hanging container, choice can be. Don't put a single The best hanging Fuchsias we know were trained from three begonia tubers will produce twice small plants in a single pot. Two as many flowers as one. And so on.

MOST IMPORTANT of all, keep a constant eye to watering your hanging baskets. We don't suggest you stand with hose in hand. But don't worry about overdoing it, either. With a hanging container, that's almost impossible to do.

Den Mothers to 'Bone Up' at Next Meeting

Den Mothers of the Meridian District, Boy Scouts of America, will learn how to make simple rhythm instruments, how to teach musical games, and get ideas on skits and stunts for the Cub Scout Musical Hoe Down at their monthly workshop in Capwell's Tuesday at 9:45 a.m.

Chairman of the meeting is Mrs. Ethyl Lopez.

Simple folk dances that can be used by parents and boys at Pack meetings also will be taught. On hand will be sample instruments, easy to make costumes for skits, and lists of ideas for possible field trips that a Den or Pack might make.

A preliminary discussion also will be held on summer and outdoor activities in preparation for the May workshop which will be devoted to trying out some of the ideas in an outdoor meeting.

All Den Mothers from Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Danville are invited to attend.

Public Interest Needed, Say County's Educators

DECRYING public apathy when it comes to "putting up financial support for schools," a panel of Contra Costa laymen and educators this week agreed that Contra Costa schools need more financial support.

Speaking at an education rally before 100 county educators and interested citizens, panel members William Leath, Dr. John Bright, and George Prall attacked the popular concept that voting down schools is a way to beat the inequities and inflationary spiral of taxes in general.

"Education is the best thing that the community buys, equal in importance to national defense and way ahead of automatic transmissions, fender fins and flip top boxes," Prall, a Mt. Diablo High teacher and teacher-spokesman on the panel declared.

PRALL PROPOSED more help, thousands of needed new teachers, smaller classes for better instruction, greater parent interest at home, and demonstration of respect for education and the work of teachers by society in general.

"Lack of community support and continuous negative charges are having a definite lowering affect on teacher morale," Prall stated.

"It's time the community got the teacher out of the filling stations, off newspaper routes, and away from other menial sidelines needed to support his family, and gave him enough to spend full time on the job he is trained to do, teaching the children of the community."

SPEAKING AS "an interested citizen," and as a member of the Mt. Diablo Unified District Citizens Committee for Schools and the Contra Costa County School District Organization Committee, Leath, a chemist in the oil industry, chided fellow citizens who fail to vote on school issues, pointing out the low turnout of eligible voters in many school election.

Leath encouraged formation of more citizen school study groups and urged community realization that good teachers must be bought in a competitive market, not in bargain basements.

Leath also called for "a greater degree of equalization of financial resources for supporting education."

CITING THE recent national Rockfeller Report on Education that all of the problems of the schools lead us back sooner or later to one basic problem, financing, Dr. Bright, California Teachers Association Research Executive, predicted "the necessary involvement of the federal government in local school support."

Bright explained that it is doubtful that the typical school system will be able to expand its budget to meet future cost increases—the already are in financial trouble. State aid helps fill the gap.

However, the problem still lies at the feet of the property tax and that can't possibly meet the bill. The burden for schools must be shared by the whole economy and the federal government is in the best position to tap that economy, Bright said.

"It is in the interest of local property taxpayers to see that it does," Bright also emphasized.

ALL THREE speakers hit the recommendation made last week by the County Trustees Association that Contra Costa teacher pay raises this year be limited to five per cent.

"In some cases, twenty-five per cent wouldn't be enough. The situation varies in each school district and arbitrary setting of a ceiling on teachers' salaries county-wise is foolhardy," Leath declared.

Speakers Prall and Bright agreed that Federal support programs are "the best and only practical avenues for meeting the challenge in education."

Leath joined them in a call for "greater public pressure for better schools and improved local and state financing," and expressed hesitancy over federal aid since he "hadn't given it full consideration or study as yet."

The education rally was sponsored by the teachers' Interdistrict Finance Committee for Education and the Coordinating Council for Contra Costa Education Associations.

The program was moderated by Henry Weiss, Interdistrict Committee chairman.

Growth of County Library Program Outlined by Helm

A proclamation urging participation in National Library Week has been issued by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, it was announced.

This is the second year that Library Week, observed in California since 1952, is sponsored on a nation-wide scale by the National Book Committee, Inc., in co-operation with the American Library Association.

Proclamations are forthcoming from President Eisenhower, Governor Brown and mayors of cities including those in Contra Costa County.

NEWSPAPERS, magazines, the television industry and other agencies will urge Americans to "Wake Up and Read"—the slogan for National Library Week.

Purposeful reading and use of public library informational services by the people of Contra Costa County have increased during the past five years in an astonishingly greater ratio than the estimated 20 per cent population increase, said Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum, County Librarian.

The number of reference questions searched in branch libraries increased 214 per cent in a four-year period, and special requests forwarded from branches to county library headquarters increased 220 per cent.

The most dramatic figure was the total of 6,529,485 books loaned for home reading by the 28 branches and stations and two bookmobiles.

The chart, according to Mrs. Hellum did not include the over one million books borrowed for home reading during the first eight months of the current fiscal year.

A comparison with the same period five years ago shows a record of 566,000 books loaned, a 92 per cent increase.

Other comparative statistics listed 108,710 registered borrowers, 75 per cent more than in April, 1954.

THE COUNTY library book collection, now numbering almost 255,000 volumes, kept in rotation among the libraries of the county system, increased 52 per cent, despite a heavy discarding of outworn books.

Nearly 13,000 gift books were presented to the county library; 824 acknowledgments of appreciation were sent to donors in behalf of the Board of Supervisors.

Mending of books during the past year increased 164 per cent compared to four years ago. Increase of library personnel was 59 per cent.

Two mobile libraries, making weekly stops in 37 areas of the county without branch libraries, have been added since 1956.

IMPROVED San Pablo Branch Library quarters were provided in the remodeled City Hall in 1955 by the City of San Pablo, making possible the merger of two smaller libraries into a stronger collection of materials.

A new, modern library building fianced by the citizens of Orinda was completed last November, and continues as a branch in the county library system.

A comparison of book borrowing at the Orinda Library shows an increased 479 per cent.

Mrs. Hellum credited this increase to the widespread citizen participation in the educational program preceding the fund-raising as well as the improved library quarters, and indicated this same surge of use would probably follow the move into new quarters now planned for Concord, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, El Sobrante, Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Hellum completed five years as county librarian this month. She took office April 1, 1954.

Art Classes Added to Adult Program

Several new classes have been added to the more than 70 offerings being presented as the Acalanes Adult Center's Spring program.

A new section of Basic Art instruction, under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Mervin, is now being held on Wednesday evenings from 7-10 p.m. at Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

Swimming on Tuesday and Thursday from 7-8:30 p.m. also started this week.

Instructor Marty Farrell will give instruction in basic and more advanced swimming, as well as diving at the Las Lomas pool in Walnut Creek.

The second series of lectures on Preparation for Childbirth is under way and will continue to admit expectant mothers and fathers who may be interested in learning more about such subjects as the Physiology and Anatomy of Pregnancy, Labor and Childbirth, Complications of Pregnancy, Diet for Expectant Mothers, and Care of the Newborn.

These lectures are presented by medical doctors who are specialists in the fields of obstetrics and pediatrics.

The class meets on Thursday evenings from 7:30-9:30 at Las Lomas High School.

Disaster Lunch

Contra Costa Red Cross Chapters held a disaster training conference last Saturday.

The conference, designed to give training to persons involved in Red Cross disaster programs, was hosted by Brig. Gen. Claude Burbank, disaster chairman of the West Contra Costa County Chapter.

A Disaster type lunch was served by the Mt. Diablo Chapter disaster canteen service. Mrs. E. Holman and Mrs. A. Larson prepared and served the luncheon.

CCC Growth Is Symposium Topic

Problems of government and taxation, under the impact of Contra Costa's projected future growth, will be discussed by County Administrator J. B. McBrien and Taxpayers' Association President Dr. Leslie Carbert at the forthcoming Business and Industrial Outlook Symposium.

The two men will be among 17 speakers at the institute, scheduled for April 29 at the Diablo Country Club, starting at 1:30 p.m.

They will be introduced by C. P. Tanner, moderator and general chairman of a joint Development Association-Junior College District committee.

Other speakers will include Grant Burton of Ygnacio Valley, who will talk on agriculture, and Ralfe D. Miller of Lafayette, whose topic will be recreation.

Miller is chairman of the County Park Commission.

Advance reservations for the symposium, which will conclude with a dinner at 6:30 p.m., indicate an attendance of 300 to 500, according to Iona M. Booth, Development Association general manager.

Notices have been mailed to some 1,500 business and industrial leaders throughout the bay area, but the general public is invited, adds Miss Booth.

A native Californian and graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, Rigor formerly was a district executive with the Boy Scouts of America.

Big Art Pageant Draws Excited Local Comments

"Kentwood," the Walnut Creek home of Lucille and Skipper Kent was the scene on Saturday for a garden party at which Walnut Creek Councilman William E. von Tagen, honorary chairman of the Diablo Pageant of Arts, and City Manager L. A. Kimball met with the Executive Committee, entry chairmen of various divisions, and the artists.

While punch was being served the members of the committee and chairmen discussed the overall plans for the Pageant and all reported excellent progress.

One lonely figure, Mary Kwiat, said she would not be able to make a report until later in the month. She is still trying to find the way to get the "means."

She will report on April 15.

Barbara Winchester of Walnut Creek, in charge of Exhibits, had the assistance of von Tagen and Mr. and Mrs. Kimball while she looked over the proposed entries.

LUCILLE (Mrs. Skipper) Kent showed a few of her paintings and the "Honolulu Newsboy" created quite a stir.

Ruth Hussey, who is exhibit chairman for the Diablo Art Association, had with her two portraits in pastels which had just been framed.

Jim Little worked hard but his painting was not quite completed. However, he said, he will be ready for the Pageant.

Also Lyle Lund, the sculptor, said his "marble" would be completed in time to enter the exhibits. Blanche Brody and Gertrude Stockton will exhibit and also participate in the "Art in Action" division.

Evadne Wenker, executive secretary of the Art Association, is the coordinator of the Pageant and her talented daughter, Geri Yuen, is in charge of hangings.

She and her husband, Don, will also participate in the "Art in Action" division.

ELEANOR CONDON, entry chairman for the Mosaics, and Harriet Ainsworth, Inez Butts, Ellen Atkins English, and Trude Cunningham, who is in charge of Ceramic entries for the Pageant, brought along samples of their own work and also that of their pupils.

Mildred Carlock is arranging for the "Meet the Author" corner and she introduced Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eric Reeve, well known writer and teacher of Berkeley, whose new book "The Gift of the Grape" will appear about the first of June.

Also present were Mrs. Betty Morrow Baker of Oakland, Mrs. Gerald Gray of Walnut Creek, and Mrs. Helen G. Lum of Concord, president of the Oakland-Berkeley Beta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity.

The Dramateurs were represented by Stan and Dorrie Stillson, Paul Pollaczek and Mrs. Clarence Betts, members of the executive board, and the lovely Betty Moran, one of the stars of their current show, "The Rainmaker."

It was a gay and colorful afternoon and the lovely grounds of "Kentwood" was a perfect background for the gaily costumed dancers, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shelley and Mr. and Mrs. Al Laven, Miss Jeanne McGlauflin, and Dick Williams.

UNDER THE PALM trees the Oscar Busch string quartet played. Doris Marliave, chairman of the music group, has arranged a diversified program.

A highlight of the Pageant will be the appearance of Tanja Ury, the concert soloist. Also participating are Mrs. Margaret Price, vocalist, Mrs. Doris Kirby, accompanist; Mrs. Rosalyn Pollycove, pianist; Mrs. Marian Steinbergh, soprano; Mrs. June Wilde, pianist; Mrs. Edith Marshall, harpist; Mrs. Itala Gambino, pianist; Mrs. Annabelle Rieke, soprano; Mrs. Jean Hall, pianist; Mrs. Doris Brill, violinist; and Mrs. Alice Keller, pianist.

The Las Lomas Band and Chorus of Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek, the Diablo Valley Chorale, Danville String Quartet, and the Dick Lotter String Quartet—all have scheduled performances.

Mary Ellen Gwynne presented the Diablo Flyers, a local model airplane group who gave demonstrations. Boys and girls interested in model cars and airplanes should watch this paper for rules and details of a contest to be held in connection with the Pageant.

ANOTHER contest which will be of particular interest to "young ladies" was announced. The Jane Miller Company, manufacturers of doll clothes, will sponsor a "Dolly Fashion Award' for future fashion designers.

Also, a Poetry Contest sponsored by Ben Rosenbluth of the Seven Arts Book Shop for high school students.

Contest rules and prizes will be announced very soon.

The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center was represented by Mrs. Richard Lieber, who assured the committee that the "Child Care" facilities would be well staffed.

MRS. W. N. TOMLINSON, Walnut Creek district chairman of Girl Scouts, explained that Children's Art Division will be supervised by Girl Scouts and leaders of the area.

Any child old enough to participate may be left in this area to paint, color, design or model clay. Parents may leave children in either unit during their stay at the pageant.

The Diablo Pageant of Arts will be held at the City Park and Recreation Center in Walnut Creek and is sponsored by the City of Walnut Creek and co-sponsored by the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce.

An invitation preview will be held May 27 and the pageant will officially open to the public May 8 and continue through May 31.

Pageant of Arts Gives Prize List For Spring Show

ARTISTS wishing to participate in any of 11 listed categories are urged to contact the headquarters of the Diablo Pageant of Arts Association at 1445 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek, if they have not received an official entry blank.

It is the belief of the committee that every cultural pursuit will find expression in the Pageant and all area artists are urged to participate.

The association believes it important that contact be established between area art groups and newcomers to the area.

The aim of the association is to bring to the public only work considered eligible for presentation at recognized art exhibits.

NO COMMERCIAL work, copies or work done under supervesion, and no household arts or hobby crafts may be entered for competition in the following categories:

Category One, familiar scene, $100 in prizes offered by the Contra Costa County Real Estate Board for the best painting in any medium of any familiar scene located in the area from Orinda to San Ramon.

In 1956 first prize was won by Mrs. Doris Whipple of Danville for her painting of Mt. Diablo.

SAM'S PLACE, a Saranap scene by Lorraine Myiatt, was first in 1957, and the 1958 winner was Marie M. Roberts of Walnut Creek.

Added this year is a special purchase award of $100 for a work chosen by a citizen's commission from selected paintings and sculpture.

This purchase will become the property of the city of Walnut Creek. Winning this award does not preclude receiving the jury award.

OVER $600 will be given in prizes and honorable mentions will be awarded at the discretion of the judges.

Category Two is oil; three, watercolor; four, graphic arts; five, sculpture; six, mosaics; seven, ceramics; eight, weaving; and nine, jewelry.

THREE ORIGINAL works in each category by any living artist may be submitted, but ceramics and jewelry entries are unlimited.

Jewelry entries will be received at Phil's Jewelry, 1515 Main Street, Walnut Creek, where they will be placed in a locked safe and displayed in locked cases.

We Need That Name Now--Say Hospital Directors

HAVE YOU submitted your entry in the "Name The New Hospital" contest?

If you haven't, you're behind, says The Sun. Everyone else is getting theirs in early.

The first entry was received from Miss Sharon Williams, 11, a Green Valley Student.

Sharon's suggested name was representative of the area—the main purpose of the contest.

THE HOSPITAL will serve all communities within its reach and the name should reflect the locale, particularly Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, Alamo and Pleasant Hill.

Other entries pour in daily, say the campaign's board of directors, who have even come up with suggestions to spur things along.

Suggested names, directors say, might refer to a memorial to a person of local prominence, past or present. The name might even describe natural surroundings, they add.

IN ANY EVENT the community will choose the name. It is THAT important, directors emphasize.

"We want a name we will be proud of — one representing the area and its characteristics, one for a fine hospital," one said recently.

All students, mommies and daddies, and just plain people, should send their entries at once to "Hospital Name Contest," 1621 North Broadway, Walnut Creek.

SIMPLY WRITE your hospital name on a piece of paper, and explain in 100 words or less why you chose it. As an alternative the 100 words may be written on why you think the hospital is important to the community.

Be sure, though, that your name and address is on the entry. If a student, also include the school you attend and your grade.

Rhyming Pays, Say Teachers

"If poetry is your forte—now is the time to make it pay!"

High school teachers announced this week that in connection with the Pageant of Arts, Ben's Seven Arts Book Shop of Walnut Creek will sponsor a poetry contest.

All area high school students are invited to participate.

Any student may submit one or no more than two poems—not to exceed 60 lines.

Entries must be in the Book Shop no later than Sunday, May 24.

A total of $30 in prizes will be awarded, consisting of three merchandise certificates on the shop. First prize award is $15. Second prize is $10, and third, $5.

Names of judges and winning entries will be announced during the Pageant and prizes will be awarded on Sunday, May 31, at the Pageant headquarters, Walnut Creek Park and Recreation Center.

Band Concert At Lomas High This Sunday

The Sixth Army Band will play Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Las Lomas High School Auditorium.

HARDTOP HIGHLIGHTS

Hardtop Race Opener Set For Tomorrow at Pacheco

By JEAN McGUIRE

Hello again racing fans, the long awaited time is finally here. The 1959 Bay Cities Racing Association season will start tomorrow night. And unless I miss my guess, there will be plenty of hardtop advocates on hand to witness the opener.

Promoter Jack London of BCRA says the Pacheco oval is rounding into excellent shape. There has been less work than usual in getting the track ready this year, thanks to the nearly perfect weather during the off season.

CONTRA COSTA Speedway boasts the finest and fastest track in Northern California. Which proves that the very hard maintenance work done by London and his associates is not in vain.

Tomorrow night, spectators will be cheering for defending champion Wally Baker, as he heads a star studded field of speed merchants.

Baker, the popular Sacramento pilot, who edged out Hugh Purdy of Santa Rosa in the closing weeks of 1958, will find that there are more than a few leadfoots out to dethrone him.

These include Purdy, Johnny Franklin, also of Santa Rosa; Le Roy Geving, Petaluma; Gene Dudley, the former champion from Napa; Pee Wee Waybright Oakland; Julian Castro, San Francisco; Ted Montague, Hayward, and Chet Thomson, San Lorenzo.

LOCAL BOYS will also be in there pitching to break the out of town jinx.

They include Doe and Hugh Jayne, Jack Huddleston, Chet Brock and Jack Clayton, all of Concord; Herb Williams of Walnut Creek; Cliff Bennett and Tim Reilly of Pacheco. Let's hope one of ours makes it this year.

The 25 lap main event will top the inaugural program at the popular quarter mile strip. Time trials will begin at 7:30 with the first race starting at 8 p.m.

Mats Take 3-0 Game From Wolves

The Miramonte Matadors won a 3-0 league game when they played the San Ramon Wolves at the Orinda diamond Tuesday afternoon.

The Mats served the ball game up in the first frame when they put together a pair of doubles to score the only three runs of the ball game.

The big three runs came when Randy Young, the lead-off batter, cracked out a double and the next hitter, Bob Ellermeyer, wound up on first when second baseman Roger Ider bobbled his ground ball.

Rob Anthionsien drove in the pair for two runs when he cracked out a double over the left fielders head and he went to third when Bob Welch grounded out to first.

Anthionsien put the third man on the books when he scooted home as Vic Johnson grounded out second to first.

That wound up the scoring as Miramonte failed to get another run the rest of the way, while Bruce Hancock on the mound for the Mats, threw shut-out ball while yielding five hits.

The Orinda nine accounted for four safe blows and played errorless ball, while San Ramon wound up with three miscues.

Batteries: San Ramon: Keyle, Rogers (2) and Miller: Miramonte, Hancock and Welch.

A crackdown on illegal garbage dumpers has been promised by law enforcement agencies in connection with the county's anti-litter campaign, extending from April 1 to May 15. The County Highway Cleanup Committee calls attention to these roadside signs, setting forth penalties for illicit garbage dumping.

Highlander Sets Stadium Record As Scots Win

Sparked by Hogan, Jacobs, and Acalanes bad luck, the Piedmont Highlancers topped Acalanes and Las Lomas in a three way track meet here last Wednesday.

Acalanes took only four out of 13 first places, and got second place in the team scoring of the meet. The final score was, Piedmont 62½, Acalanes 51½, and Las Lomas 26.

For Piedmont, Hogan won the 880, 220, and brought the Scots 880 relay team from behind to win. His time of 1:57.4 in the 880 yard run was a new Acalanes stadium record. Jacobs won the 100, 180 low hurdles, and the broad jump.

First place winners for the Dons were: Dewaine Stults in the Shot Put (47' 3"), Fred Lercari in the 440 (52.5), Leo Macfarlane in the mile (4:37.9), and Tim Scott in the pole vault (11' 7").

For the fans there was an added attraction, the weightman relay (to qualify for this event you have to have competed in the shot put or the discus in the meet).

Acalanes unbeaten "B" team devoured Piedmont and Las Lomas by a score of 84⅓ to 56 5/6 to 1 5/6 in respective order.

Don Net Squad Defeats Knights

The Don Tennis Team started off on the right foot by defeating Las Lomas four out of seven matches. Having to take at least one of the doubles matches, the team of Neal Freeman and Art Colwell defeated their rivals in two straight sets. Winners in the singles matches were Dan Funk, Tom Beatty, and Miller Freeman.

Open House For Students

Diablo Valley College will hold open house for the public—particularly high school seniors and their families, next Friday during both day and evening, it was announced recently by Grant A. Hooper, social sciences instructor and chairman of the planning committee.

There will be several innovations aside from the weekday date itself, Hooper said. One will be the opening of in-session classes and laboratories to visiting high school seniors between 9 and 11 a.m.

Another new event will be a 6 to 7:30 p.m. buffet supper, available at nominal charge, served in the Student Activities Building dining room and an adjacent out-of-doors area.

The general public may attend a series of musical, drama, discussional, class-in-action and sports events. A dozen education program areas from art to physical science will be open for visiting and browsing.

Admission also will be free to a 2:30 p.m. baseball game between Diablo Valley and Vallejo Colleges.

Don Spikers Beaten Badly by a Very Tough Berkeley Squad, 76-37

Completely at the mercy of powerful Berkeley, Acalanes only managed to scrape up two first places, one of them a tie, in the Dons first home meet of the season. The final score was 76-37.

Tim Scott copped off with first place in the pole vault with a vault of 11', and Steve Lientz tied Berkeley's Bob Courtney in the High Jump at 5' 10", for Acalanes only first places.

FLEXING THEIR MUSCLES, the Acalanes Don Track team romped over San Ramon 84-29 at Danville.

The Dons took 11 first places out of 13 events. Bob Rinne was a double winner as he won the 100 and the 220, Doyle Turner won the high hurdles, and was second in the lows, and third in the pole vault. Tim Scott won the pole vault and the broad jump. Tony La Rossa won the low hurdles. Steve Lientz cleared 5' 10" to win the High Jump. Bill Pedder won the 880, Art Corse won the 440, and Leo Macfarlane kicked in a 4:40.0 mile.

New Heart Chairmen Are Named

After a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Contra Costa County Heart Association, William C. McIntosh, president, announced appointments of members to new and reactivated committees.

Appointed chairman of the Personnel Committee was Robert Bartlett of Walnut Creek.

Dr. Mary L. Eilert of Walnut Creek was named as the Heart Association representative to the Contra Costa County Rehabilitation Council Incorporated, which coordinates work of county organizations concerned with rehabilitation.

Heading the Rheumatic Fever Committee is Dr. Irving Fine, Pleasant Hill.

Committee members include Dr. Peter Kunkel, Concord; Dr. Ezra Clark, Danville; and Dr. Sybil Schellhase, Concord.

Named as delegates to the California Heart Association convention to be held May 23-25 in Long Beach were Dr. Marvin Epstein, Dr. Mary Eilert and Mrs. W. B. Marschner, Walnut Creek; and Dr. James F. Embick, Richmond.

McIntosh reported that a total of $43,700 was collected in the February 1959 Heart Sunday drive.

This is an increase of well over 20 per cent over the total of $35,252 for the 1958 campaign, he said.

McIntosh had warm praise for the work of the 6000 volunteers who participated in the Heart Sunday effort.

Awards to leaders of the drive will be given in a special ceremony at the annual meeting of the organization scheduled for September, he said.

Passover to Start Wednesday

Beginning Wednesday evening Jews throughout the world will start the observance of the Passover holiday which lasts for the Reformed Jews for one week and for the Traditionalists for eight days.

The Seder dinner, which is a special service observed both at the beginning and at the end of the Passover period, will be sponsored by the League of Jewish Women, Sisterhood of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, under the chairmanship of Mrs. [illegible] the Lafayette Jewish Community Center Building.

It will begin at 7:30, Wednesday.

Dr. H. Hirsch Cohen, Rabbi of the Jewish Community Center, will conduct the Seder service and the members of the community will join with him in the recitation of the prayers for peace and understanding among all the peoples of the world.

They will eat the matzos, the unleavened bread of affliction, to remind them of the suffering of their fellow Jews and of mankind.

They will also partake of the bitter herbs and salt water to remind them of the sadness, bitterness and tears shed throughout the centuries of suffering and persecution.

Just as here — in synagogues, homes, community centers — wherever people may gather for the celebration of Passover — Rabbis and laymen alike will recite again the ancient tale of the struggle for human liberty, the Biblical story of the Exodus.

The symbolism of the traditional and commemorative foods will be explained, songs will be sung and prayers recited.

New Reservoir In Service Now

A new two-million gallon reservoir recently was placed in service by the East Bay Municipal Utility District for water consumers in Reliez Valley, Donald G. Larkin, distribution division manager, announced today.

Located near Withers Road on the hill west of Reliez Valley Road, the tank-type storage unit is a wire-wrapped concrete structure with an overflow elevation of 555 feet above sea level.

The new reservoir will provide added storage in the utility district's Colorado Zone, which receives water from the Lafayette filter plant.

Knights Remain League Leaders

Whip Piedont High 8-1; Remy, Hanson Toss Tilt

The Las Lomas Knights stayed in the undefeated clan in Foothill League baseball play and at the top of the heap as they defeated Piedmont High April 9, 8-1.

The game played at Walnut Creek found the Knight nine scoring four runs in the first inning with a pair of walks and error and hits by Don Hopkins, Larry Drummond and Bob Samuels accounting for the scoring.

The Knights added three runs in the third and one in the fourth, while Piedmont's lone tally came in the seventh when Bob Jones got their lone hit, a double with one on.

Bill Remy throwing for the Knights tossed four innings before giving away to Wade Hanson in the fifth who had a shut out going until the seventh when Jones got his blow.

Drummond with two for three and Samuels with two for four paced the winners six hit attack. Piedmont accounted for six errors, Las Lomas two.

Batteries: Piedmont—Clayton, Allen (6) and Miles (4), Rawley (7) Las Lomas: Remy, Hanson (5) and Stephenson, Kennedy (4) Sieberling (6).

Rams Enter Win Column After Scuttling Pirates

The Pleasant Hill Rams got back into the win column with a vengeance Tuesday when they upset the favored Pittsburg Pirates 9-7 in a ball game played at Pleasant Hill High.

The Ram bats went to work early when they scored eight runs in the bottom of the first after shutting out the visitors in their opening turn at bat with three walks and four hits opening the gates.

MIKE SLUSHEER started the fireworks with a single and stole second while Mark Bowers walked and the bases were plugged when Bill Chappell singled to right field.

Bill Locatelli went down on a strikeout, but when Dave Shepard drew a base on ball it forced Slusher in with a run.

Jim Maples followed with a single to score Brown and when Roger Leonard struck out there were two down and the bases still loaded.

George Adams at bat, walked to bring in Chappell from third and Ron Beardslee did likewise, to force Shepard home. Slusher, up for the second time in the frame, singled to get two runs batted in when Maples and Adams came home, sending Beardslee to third. Bower then doubled to send Beardslee home and the inning ended as Bower was out stretching his hit by going to third.

That made it 8-0 and it was 9-0 in the third when Leonard singled and Adams sent him to third on a double. Beardslee grounded out short to first, enabling Leonard to score on a fielders choice.

Pitt got two runs in the fourth and threatened in the fifth, when they converted three errors and three walks along with a lone hit into five runs. That's as far as they got, however, and the Rams wound the game up with a 9-7 win tucked under their belt.

The Rams outhit the Pirates 9-3, but also outdid them in the error department 9-2.

Batteries: Pittsburg, Lea and Lewis; Pleasant Hill, Beardslee, Cary (6 ))and Adams.

Acalanes Shuts Out Highlanders

The Acalanes Dons won their second league game Tuesday afternoon when they shut out the visiting Piedmont High nine 7-0.

Eight errors contributed heavily to the Clan's downfall as they matched the Dons in the hitting department when each club wound up with four safe blows, Acalanes had but one error.

THE DONS WERE off to a fast start getting four runs in the first, which as things turned out, were more than enough for the win. Bob Manello started with a walk and Gary Hansen made it two on when he walked. Don Nelson filed the bases when an error put him on, and seconds later Manello tallied on a pass ball, with Hansen scoring from third Nelson to second on the play.

George McMeans flew out to first and Lou Corso was safe when the pitcher threw wide to first after fielding a slow roller fith Hansen scoring from third and Nelson going to third.

Nelson and Corso tallied when Piedmont's first baseman, George Conn, bobbled Bob Gillham's ground ball.

The Dons scored again in the third when Corso drew life on an error and Gillham singled, with both coming in when shortstop Dave Shaw overthrew first on Mike Ward's ground ball.

The Dons final and seventh run came in the sixth, when Jim Holden laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to score Mike Kritscher from third, who had walked earlier in the frame.

TOM STRAIN, in going the route for Acalanes, struck out nine, while yielding four hits.

Tom Hughes who also went the distance on the hill for Piedmont, struck out eight and give up five hits.

Piedmont had but two men reach second base, one in the first when Don Mulloy doubled, and one in the sixth when Dave Shaw walked and advanced on a fielder's choice.

Batteries: Acalanes — Strain and Corso, Pejovich (5).

Piedmont—Hughes and Miles.

Dons Capture Bee Trophies At El Cerrito

A record entry list of 59 schools took part in the 10th meeting of the El Cerrito relays.

Top Billing for Barnum, Billings

A Lafayette man beat an Oaklander to the draw, of a fountain pen that is, to be the first nonresident to sign up April 1 for the Berkeley City Camp at Tuolumne. But he had to camp out to do it!

Inveterate fisherman - sportsman Jim Billings and his daughter Deb of 980 Condit Road, set up their sleeping bags on the steps of Berkeley's Recreation Department Building at 10:30 the night before in order to be the first out-of-towners to sign up for the popular family resort in the Stanislaus Forest.

Oaklander Earl Strader who has succeeded for several years in getting there just ahead of Lafayettean Louis Barnum, came on the scene at 3:30 in the morning, was April Fooled, and had to be content with being second to register.

Barnum of 3323 Springhill Road, was the third person to arrive at the April Foolish hour of 4:30 a.m.

Along with 35 other camp devotees who lined up before the office opening at 7:30 a.m. the trio of men are assured of their family having choice reservations at camp this season.

The rush to register for the Berkeley camp comes as no surprise and the Recreation Department, well prepared, had added to the office staff to handle the crowds as well as the heavy load of registrations that arrived by registered mail throughout the day.

Happy Camping, Barnum and Billings!

Antioch Takes Ram Trouncing

The teams each scored two in the fifth to give the Rams an 10-6 edge.

Antioch came strong from then on out grabbing an 11-10 lead by scoring three runs in the fifth and then pouring eight runs across in the sixth to sew the old ball game up 17-10 as they shut out the Rams in the final three innings.

Free Firewood if You Are Willing, Brave and Strong

If you are brave, strong, thrifty, cheerful and have other boy scout attributes, you can collect "free firewood" at the Briones Reservoir site.

East Bay Municipal Utility District has announced the firewood is "available" — an understatement if there ever was one.

THE SITE in Briones Valley is now being cleared by bulldozers. The firewood "is in the form of debris," EBMUD said.

Persons who want the wood must bring their own saws and equipment to cart off the finished product, EMUD pointed out.

Cautiously, William T. Hartman, land maintenance supervisor for EBMUD, said the district "cannot be responsible for the personal safety of those entering the area."

IT WAS observed that poison oak is also "available," and Hartman pointed out that "congestion could result if too many people are in the area at one time."

"Good judgment" was advised on the part of those "seeking to obtain the firewood."

HARTMAN also advised, "if access roads are crowded it will be better to wait until a later time before entering."

As an anti-climax, EBMUD said signs will be posted along Bear Creek Road "advising the public of when and where the firewood is available as the clearing operation progresses.

Last week, the site figured in the news when rumors flew that an H-bomb plant would be constructed near the reservoir.

The rumors were denied by EBMUD and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Children Design Mosaic Mural; Need Materials

The children of the Glorietta school under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Cutler are designing and constructing a mosaic mural to be hung on the wall of their new library now being built in the new additions to the school.

Large and small details of pictures drawn by the children are now being selected for inclusion in the mural.

The theme, "Nature," will include Mt. Diablo, Moraga Valley and Glorietta's own nature area.

THE CHILDREN plan to have sketches drawn on the four by sixteen foot plywood backing and all the materials assembled by June although the actual mosaic work will not be done until September when the new library will be completed.

Each child in the school will contribute something to the mural even if it is only the placing of one tile or stone by a kindergartner.

Materials are now being collected in a contest by the different rooms at the school, with the classroom collecting the most (by weight) before April 24th receiving an award.

Any type of tile, including those left from building a swimming pool or bathroom, unusual rocks, pretty shells, stained glass, beads or other similar materials are being collected.

Cancer Facts Will Combat Quack Remedies

The Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society is helping to fight cancer quackery by alerting the public to common misconceptions about the disease, Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, county president, declared this week.

Dr. Pellegrin's statement highlighted the mid-point of a month-long cancer crusade by the local branch.

Society's emphasizing that radiation and surgery are the only known methods for curing cancer should make it harder for quacks to sell "secret" medicines and gadgets, said Dr. Pellegrin.

"UNFORTUNATELY,' he said, "there always will be gullible people willing to place their faith in quack promises instead of seeking legitimate cure. The tragedy of such cases is that cancer gains on the patient when treatment is delayed until too late to save a life.'

Fear is the main force which drives people to cancer quacks, is the view of the society.

"Some people don't face up to reality, and the quack leads them to believe that under his care they will be all right," pointed out Dr. Pellegrin.

"Ironically, though," he said, "fear of cancer also keeps healthy patients in the quacks' clutches. Patients are told they have cancer when they don't. Then the quacks keep them coming back for 'treatments,' finally announcing a 'cure'."

AS PART OF its education program, the American Cancer Society advocates regular health checkups by one's family physician as insurance against cancer.

"Early cancers often can be detected in the course of a routine examination,' explained Dr. Pellegrin.

Between examinations, one should be alert to cancer's early warning signs, emphasizes the society.

Information about health checkups and cancer's seven danger signals will be distributed to every home in every community in Contra Costa County on "C-Day", Monday, April 20, when American Cancer Society volunteers will conduct a house-to-house educational and fund raising crusade.

On a Lazy Day, Browse About Your Nursery

On a lazy spring day, one of the best free forms of entertainment we know of is browsing around your local nursery.

It's sort of like attending a gala garden show any time the mood strikes you.

And according to the California Association of Nurserymen, if your garden is going to live up to your summer expectations, let's hope it strikes you soon.

With the advent of the modern garden center, you can find just about anything that grows—plus all the equipment and care and culture items you need to smooth the way.

It's fun to keep a weather-eye out for new products that come on the market, because gardening—like any other hobby—tends to become easier and more pleasant, thanks to research and invention.

One of the features that we tend to take for granted when we visit a C.A.N. nursery is that—with every plant you buy, regardless of cost, or, even if you don't buy a thing—you can get a treasured amount of authentic gardening advice.

Your C.A.N. nurseryman is a trained horticulturalist, so this advice is reliable. Were you to pay for it by the hour, it would be worth many times the value of the merchandise you buy.

As part of an unwritten code, your C.A.N. nurseryman will not sell you a plant or shrub that will not grow in your area.

Even long after your plant is growing in the ground, your C.A.N. nurseryman will continue to be a source of responsible advice and authority regarding any problems that may arise.

Right now your C.A.N. nursery is "blooming" beautiful and bursting with inspirations. Let's make the most of it by paying a visit today.

Canal Fence Law Tabled By County's Supervisors

After nearly a year of study, plans to fence the Contra Costa Canal have been tabled by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

The supervisors, in Martinez recently, were unable to reach a decision on the plan proposed by the Contra Costa County Water District which operates the canal system.

PRINCIPAL opponent to the fencing plan was District Attorney John Nejedly who stated the county was being asked to solve a federal problem.

The problem, Nejedly said, was created by the United States Bureau of Reclamation which built the canal system.

Nejedly commented that the law, as proposed, would require a fence only on the canal boundary and large gaps would occur whenever there was no residential development.

He added, that persons interested in safety would have their property fenced regardless of a law, but "in my opinion the proposed ordinance is unconstitutional and unenforceable," Nejedly continued.

NEJEDLY OPINED the county ordinance requirement would shift the responsibility for removing the hazard from the governmental agency, the builder, to the county and the property owners.

Nejedly explained when the state builds a freeway, it does not ask property owners to build fences to protect them from possible hazards created

Here's How to File for Local Board Vacancy

Interested in running for trustee of your local school board?

Procedure is simple, according to the office of Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent of schools.

County Declared 'Rabid' For Year

Contra Costa County was declared "rabid" for the second year, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors learned recently in Martinez.

The declaration that the county was a rabies area was based on the number of rabid animals which have been found in the county during the past year.

The supervisors learned a number of rabid skunks, dogs, and other wildlife during the past 12 months had been discovered by county health officers.

All dogs in Contra Costa County, because of the declaration, must now be vaccinated for rabies before they can be licensed.

E. Bay Aqueduct To Get Underway, Says Official

Work on the East Bay Municipal District's $68 million Third Mokelumne Aqueduct is scheduled to begin June 1, according to EBMUD chief engineer Joseph D. DeCosta.

The initial contract will call for building a 33-mile stretch of water lifeline over a 30-month period. Terminal points will be Walnut Creek and Bixler near Brentwood.

The aqueduct line totals 92 miles, running from Pardee Reservoir in the Sierra foothills to Orinda. Other sections will be built in seven additional contracts, DeCosta said. Contract time will be three and one-half years from start to finish.

Walter R. McLean, supervising civil engineer of the aqueduct design section, gave this timetable for the eight aqueduct contracts:

Starting this year will be:

1. Pipeline, Bixler to Walnut Creek—33 miles.
2. Lafayette Tunnel, Lafayette Tunnel through Charles Hill to Orinda Filter Plant—three and one-half miles.

Starting in 1960 will be:

3. Pipeline, Pardee Dam to San Joaquin River—34 miles.
4. Concrete pile supports, San Joaquin River to Bixler — 14½ miles.
5. Pipeline, San Joaquin River to Bixler, elevated portions.
6. Underwater sections at three river crossings, San Joaquin River to Bixler.
7. Tunnels, at ridges west of Walnut Creek and east of Acalanes High School in Lafayette.

Yet to be determined is the starting date for:

8. Lafayette Aqueduct, from Acalanes ridge to Lafayette pumping plant west of Lafayette.

Now is the Time For All To Learn Planting Joys

If the planting bug hasn't bitten you yet this spring, the California Association of Nurseryman suggests it's high time to expose yourself to the delights that await you at your nursery.

To herald the arrival of spring, leading nurseries who are members of the California Association of Nurserymen are presenting the Can-Can Carnival of Nursery Values.

THIS IS a state-wide gardening event—the first ever held in California's history.

The carnival—which is underway now and continuing until April 12—offers home gardeners probably the best opportunity of the year to stock up on plants and shrubs, garden tools, sprays, fertilizers and other nursery aids at special Can-Can prices.

THE THEME of the Can-Can Carnival of Nursery Values is "kick up your heels and plant."

Your nursery has set the stage for spring. Now it's time for you to get in the act.

Child Welfare Group to Meet In Walnut Creek

The Family and Child Welfare Section of the Central Contra Costa County Community Welfare Council will meet in Walnut Creek this month to begin its survey of nearby communities, such as Danville, Orinda, Moraga, Concord, Pittsburg, Port Chicago and others, "to see what these places are really like from a community service standpoint."

Members want to determine how existing community service groups are helping these areas, and also to see what added or extended services may be needed.

Many factors make a marked difference between one area and another.

A town's location, its industries and other employment sources, the comparative stability of its population, the number and ages of its children, and many other factors give each community its individual characteristics.

Tailoring a community service program to fit individual areas becomes easier if general facts about that area can be assembled for study.

Facts developed from the survey will be very helpful in pointing out specific needs of each area.

Mrs. Barbara Kidwell heads the Project Committee for this survey.

It is hoped that the completed survey will help each community to prevent gaps in service and to develop well-rounded family and child welfare programs.

Those interested in efforts to decrease juvenile delinquency, especially in its early stages, may wish to follow future reports of the work of the Section in making a preliminary survey to determine the need for a Family Service Agency in the County's central area.

Family Service Agency workers in other areas offer help to prevent family breakdown, which is a factor responsible for a large percentage of delinquency development.

Such aids for helping to prevent delinquency can also spare tax payers thousands of dollars worth of foster home or institutional care when family breakdown goes beyond restoration.

Juvenile Hall Aids Thousands; Needs Helpers

The Juvenile Hall Auxiliary helps some 2000 boys and girls who are admitted annually to the Hall, say administrators.

These children are between the ages of three and 18, and live at the Hall only a few days or a few weeks, after which most return directly to their communities, some later, after foster home placement or institutional programming.

But their short stay at the Hall is of the greatest significance, and to be successful, must be accompanied by community assistance and understanding.

Twenty-four volunteer units are working with the Auxiliary.

Nurses Meet, Hear Speaker

Reverend Father John McCracken of the Catholic Social Service was guest speaker

The officers for the coming year were elected. Further plans were discused regarding the scholarship in nursing.

Thousands of Carnations To Be Given at Broadway

"Last year Broadway merchants gave away 6000 carnations and this year we will give away even more."

So spoke George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association in announcing the Festival of Values at the Center today and tomorrow.

Webster commented free carnations would be distributed by three lovely misses from today at noon and all day tomorrow.

Stores, of course, in the Broadway Shopping Center will be open this evening and we will distribute carnations at that time, also, Webster added.

The merchants association chairman said the flower girls would be easy to spot because they will be wearing large spring hats covered with beautiful carnations.

"We want all our customers and friends to take advantage of the carnation offer and also participate in the wonderful bargains which are being offered during our second annual Festival of Values," Webster concluded.

Broadway Second Festival Continues Thru Tomorrow

The second annual Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, Festival of Values will be celebrated today and tomorrow, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"Stores throughout Broadway will be offering outstanding values during this festival and there will be plenty of merchandise on hand so that no one will be disappointed," Webster promised.

The merchants in Broadway have been planning for this event for quite some time and are doing everything in their power to make it a success for the second consecutive year," Webster continued.

Webster reminded residents thousands of carnations will be given to visitors of the Center from today and tomorrow evening free o fcharge in honor of the bargain festival.

"In addition to our normal operating hours during the day operating hours during the day, open this evening," Webster concluded.

Broadway Now Open 2 Nights

Stores in the Broadway Shopping Center are open Monday and Friday evenings to offer the maximum amount of service to customers, according to Bill Schatz, member of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"In addition to our normal daytime hours, we, in the center, felt it was necessary to offer service to the commuter or the person who finds it difficult to shop during the day," Schatz commented.

"Therefore, the merchants of Broadway decided to stay open Friday nights. These night time openings were found to be successful and there was a demand for an opening earlier in the week," the association spokesman continued.

"Now, Broadway stores are open on Monday and Friday nights so that all may shop at leisure in the Shopping Center," Schatz concluded.

"In turn, we found the Monday night openings very successful and we wish to thank our customers for supporting our programs. Our opening two nights a week will be continued," Schatz promised.
